Forest Fire Burns Above Snow Creek

Site of Tramway Threatened by Cabazon Peak Blaze

A U.S. Forestry fire fighting crew made their way into the headquarters of Snow Creek early this morning to fight a forest fire which threatens the site of the aerial tramway.

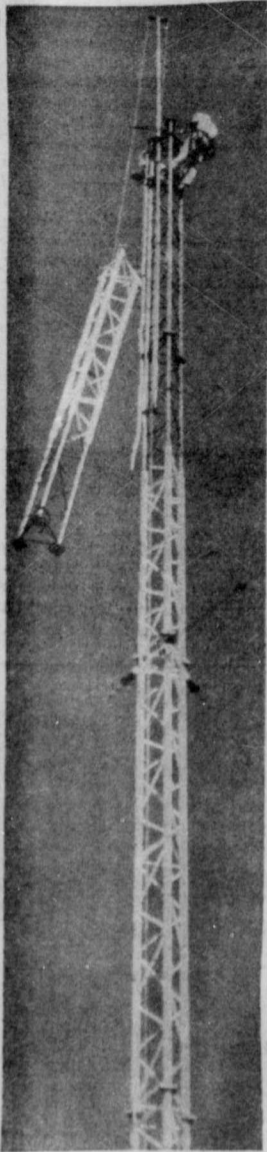

U. S. Forestry officials said that the fire has consumed about three-fourths of an acre on a high ridge about the 8,000-foot level of the almost inaccessible Cabazon peak.

Firefighters took the Black Mountain road into the area, then hiked on in, packing their equipment. It was about a two-hour hike over "very rugged terrain."

The fire apparently started from a "lightning holdover" from last week's lightning storm in the mountains. Lightning possibly hit a tree and a fire simmered in the tree until yesterday afternoon when it burst into flames, spreading to other nearby trees.

Late yesterday afternoon, the U. S. Forestry dropped four loads of "bare" chemicals on the fire, holding it in check until the 10-man forestry crew could reach the fire area this morning.

The densely wooded forest area, still damp from the recent rains, helped hold down the spread of the fire, which is reportedly about three air miles from the Tramway terminus on Mt. San Jacinto.

DOWN COMES one of Palm Springs landmarks. In conjunction with the expansion of Radio Station KDES, its transmission tower is being moved from its present location on Vista Chino between Indian Avenue and Sunrise Way to the north end of the city between Indian and Highway 111. In order to facilitate the move, KDES is operating with a temporary antenna, which may reduce the signal in some fringe areas of the station's signal. The temporary condition is not expected to be in effect more than a few days. (Desert Sun Photo)

Six Killed Near Yuma

By United Press International

Fourteen persons, including six wiped out in a head-on crash, died over the weekend as a result of Southern California traffic accidents.

Killed in the head-on collision on U.S. 80 near the California-Arizona border was the entire Charles R. Heckman family of West Covina and Mrs. Flora Van Orden, 76, La Mesa.

The family included Heckman, 38, his wife Evelyn J., 32, and their three children, Marie Annette, 6, Andrew William, 5, and Linda Susan, 3.

California Highway Patrolmen said Heckman, westbound, apparently thought he could use a lane still reserved for eastbound traffic on the highway which is under construction.

Youths Held On Charges Of Stealing

Two Palm Springs youths and a juvenile are in custody in Indio on petty theft charges, following the theft of a tire and wheel from a car parked at the Indio Bowling alley.

In custody is Henry Wesley Jackson, 21, of 438 No. El Segundo, and Richard David Winer, 22, of 25-789 Anza Road, and 17-year-old Ray D. Schuler, 220 No. El Segundo, who has been turned over to juvenile authorities.

At the time of their arrest at El Cielo Road and Ramon Road early this morning, there were a total of ten other teenagers with them in two cars.

The stolen wheel and tire had already been put on one of the cars.

UAW Trying 'Pattern'

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers union is attempting to make American Motors' historic profit-sharing agreement with the UAW the pattern for labor contracts in the industry's Big Three.

The union started its drive Sunday by telling Chrysler Corp. "There is no reason why it can't provide its workers with the same benefits" as AMC agreed to Saturday.

The UAW was expected to make much the same presentation today to Ford and General Motors. All three firms face possible strikes when their contracts for 500,000 workers expire at midnight Thursday.

The decision on a strike target will be made Tuesday at a meeting of the UAW's Executive Board. Union negotiators at all three firms will request a walk-out if no agreement is reached

Ready to Negotiate, Nikita Says

German Question Permits No Delay, Tells Interviewer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has said Russia was "ready at any moment" to meet with Western leaders to negotiate a Berlin settlement.

Khrushchev made the statement in an interview with columnist Drew Pearson released Sunday night.

The solution of the German question "permits no delay," the Russian leader said, and said the Russian government is ready to guarantee a "free city" status for West Berlin.

Later, West German foreign experts in Bonn said Khrushchev's remarks were a Soviet psychological weapon aimed at public opinion in the United States and in neutral countries.

Khrushchev repeated his previous proposals to sign a unilateral peace treaty with East Germany, warning that such action would officially end Western access right to Berlin. Access to the isolated city, stemming from Allied treaties agreed on at the end of World War II, would have to be renegotiated with the East German government, which the United States does not recognize.

Khrushchev denied there was a threat to Berlin's communication with the Western world, but he emphasized that any routes would have to be agreed to by the East German government.

Field Worker Hit for Theft

INDIO—A 41-year-old field worker, Willie Robinson, was taken into custody yesterday by Riverside County Sheriff's deputies, after he was found to have more than $200 in his possession that he could not explain.

Saturday, the foreman of the Wool Ranch near Indio, reported to deputies that he had $350 taken from a strong box in the front seat of his pickup truck, while he was checking field hands working on the ranch.

Deputies took several suspects into custody, but released them when they could not get proof of the theft.

But surveillance of the suspects paid off when a deputy found Robinson spending "a great deal of money" and could not explain where it had come from.

CD Committee Seeks Refugee Cots, Blankets

Palm Springs civil defense committee today has made a request to the Riverside County Director of Civil Defense for 10,000 cots and 20,000 blankets, to be used for refugees in case of national emergency.

Spurring the civil defense setup in Palm Springs, assistant director and Chief of Police August G. Kettmann will speak to teachers and administrative officials of the school district to make plans for using of schools in Palm Springs to house and feed refugees.

Kettmann will speak at a faculty meeting at Agua Caliente School on Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Area Crashes Injure Four

INDIO—Four persons received minor injuries in two pre-dawn accidents in the Indio - Palm Springs area today, with one accident pitting a small foreign car against a cross-country bus.

The California Highway Patrol reported that Mrs. Gladys Mae Smith, 40-year-old Monrovia schoolteacher, was cited for an unsafe turn. She wheeled her small German-built sedan across Highway 60-70 in the path of a westbound Greyhound bus 1.5 miles east of here at 3:45 a.m. Mrs. Smith, her husband, James, 32, and son Timothy, 14, received minor injuries.

The bus was scratched. The small sedan severely damaged. Bus driver Harlin Suman, 49, Phoenix, was not cited.

Robert Alfred Davis, 35, Los Angeles, received minor injuries and a citation for being drunk in a motor vehicle after his car struck a roadside pole on Indian Ave. one-half mile north of Palm Springs, at 2:35 a.m. CHP aides reported a complaint is being filed against Davis, charging drunk driving. Davis' car was damaged in the front end.

Troops and Ships Moving Toward Left Stronghold

BRASILIA (UPI)—An aircraft carrier and two other warships loaded with troops were reported sailing today toward Porto Alegre, stronghold of leftist Vice President Joao Goulart, amid mounting indications that the Brazilian armed forces were determined to bar Goulart from succeeding to the presidency.

The navy and most of the air force were believed to be backing the army against any attempt by Goulart—now in Paris en route back from a visit to Red China—to assume the presidency left vacant by President Janio Quadros' resignation.

Civilian and military leaders met in nightlong talks here in advance of an expected government request to Congress that it approve a constitutional amendment to exclude Goulart from the presidency.

Meanwhile ex-President Quadros, who resigned Friday, announced he was leaving Brazil and thus removing himself completely from the domestic political scene. A spokesman for the Quadros family in Santos said the ex-president and members of his family would sail Tuesday morning for England aboard the Royal Mail Lines vessel Arlanza. Informed sources said Quadros left a written declaration to be made public once he is out of Brazil's territorial waters.

The 13,910-ton aircraft carrier Minas Gerais set out Sunday from Rio de Janeiro accompanied by the U.S.-built light cruiser Tamandare and an unidentified destroyer.

The navy refused to give the ships' destination or give the reason for their departure. But unconfirmed reports said they were en route to the southern city of Porto Alegre—headquarters of Goulart's brother-in-law, Leonel Brizola, the governor of Rio Grande do Sul State.

Federal authorities closed down two Porto Alegre radio stations for broadcasting pro-Goulart statements Sunday. Brizola then moved the transmitter of a third station into his headquarters "to correctly inform the public."

Keeps in Touch
In Paris, Goulart was reported keeping in close touch with the tense situation in Brazil, where War Minister Odilio Denys has been quoted as threatening to jail the vice president the moment he returned to assume the presidency.

The war minister, currently the de facto ruler of Brazil, made no secret of his determination to keep the leftist Goulart out of the presidency.

Denys told UPI that "Brazil must choose between democracy and communism."

Nepal Reports Floods
KATMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—Large areas in the south of Nepal were reported today to be devastated by heavy floods.

Reports reaching here mentioned no serious loss of lives, but 25 villages with a total 3,000 persons were said to have been washed away.

The daily anti-communist programs sponsored by some 3,000 civic, religious and business leaders in Southern California continue Tuesday with W. Cleon Skousen, formerly of the FBI; Wednesday with Herbert Philbrick, noted counterespionage; and Thursday with Major Alexander P. de Seversky.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew here from Washington today and went into immediate consultation with U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld and U.S. chief delegate Eliot A. Stevenson on Berlin and other international trouble spots.

Crash Kills Arizona Boy

BLTYHE—Terrell Barber, 7-year-old Phoenix, Ariz. boy, was killed in a one-car collision on Highway 60-70, approximately 10 miles east of here, at 8 a.m. Sunday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

No details were available at press time on the accident. The youngster was dead on arrival at Palos Verde Valley Hospital.

The fatality was the second of the weekend in this area. Robert S. Councilman, Blythe, was killed in a traffic collision at 5:30 a.m. Saturday.

Council to Face New Redistricting Issue

With a comparatively short agenda facing the city council tonight, one of the major issues will be a suggestion by Councilman Ted McKinney to add elections-at-large to the redistricting issue to be before the people, Nov. 21.

Support for the elections-at-large has already come from the League of California Cities, which at the time was supporting state legislation for a change in the redistricting law.

At that time, a letter to City Attorney Jerry Bunker from Richard Carpenter, executive director and general counsel of the league, said, "I was asked to suggest the possibility of legislation, if it is necessary, to submit a proposition for election of councilmen at-large, rather than by districts."

The League Counsel pointed out that "the almost overnight growth within California communities makes such (councilmanic) districts impractical, and they are out of balance almost as soon as they are revised."

Another matter on the agenda is in the form of a letter to the council asking for financial support by the Desert Stage lines to operate in Palm Springs.

City attorney Jerry Bunker will give a short report on the North Palm Canyon Drive project, and outline the reasons behind the "friendly" suit being brought to check the validity of the contract.

There will be five planning matters and six information items to the council from the planning commission, and three matters concerning the variance board recommendations.

The meeting will be held in the council chamber at the City Hall at 8 p.m.

13-Year-Old Boy Wounds Pair of Law Officers

CALDWELL, Idaho (UPI) — A boy who says he is the sniper who seriously wounded two law officers Saturday night and expects "to get parole for this" was in jail under $25,000 bond today.

Robert Miller, 13, who allegedly did the shooting with a 22-caliber rifle on the farm owned by his parents near here, was arraigned Sunday on charges of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder. He will appear in court Tuesday for further action.

There is a possibility a more serious charge might be filed if either Caldwell Police Chief Keith Judd, 41, or Ada County Deputy Sheriff Mel States, 45, fail to recover from their wounds. Judd and States are both paralyzed by bullets in the neck and back. Both were listed in serious condition today at a hospital in Boise, 25 miles from Caldwell.

The boy was quoted by officers as remarking, "Well, I guess I'll get parole for this" following a confession early Sunday.

At first the boy told officers he saw a man run from his father's

Sneaking Information From Tracks Viewed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate investigations subcommittee suggested today that Congress might consider making it illegal to sneak betting information from race tracks.

McClellan made the proposal as his subcommittee prepared to begin its second week of hearings into organized gambling.

The Arkansas Democrat said one bill designed to counter gambling was on the verge of becoming law. He said the Senate may act soon to stamp final congressional approval on a measure that would make interstate transmission of gambling information illegal.

He said the ban is aimed at destroying horse race information services which specialize in flashing race track information to bookmakers and horse parlors across the country.

And to follow this up, McClellan said, his subcommittee may propose a bill that would prevent "underground" operators at race tracks from transmitting information back to their home base.

Other congressional news: Foreign Aid: A Senate-House conference committee began its second week of efforts to draft a compromise foreign aid bill. The conferees last week managed to reconcile some differences between the versions passed by the House and Senate. But they avoided taking up the key issue of long-term borrowing authority for the president. There were indications that the committee might begin work on the provision today.

Contracts: Rep. Frank Kowalski, D-Conn., said the Defense Department was considering including a clause in future procurement contracts to prevent the government from assuming any portion of costs resulting from lawful strikes.

Gail Russell Found Dead Beside Empty Vodka Bottle

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Beautiful Gail Russell, 36, a "shy and quiet, but determined" actress, vowed many times she would defeat alcohol, but an empty vodka bottle sat beside her on the day she died.

She was found dead Sunday in her bottle-strewn West Los Angeles home. A worried neighbor discovered her body lying on the living room floor.

Officers said she died sometime between Thursday and Saturday night.

Policeman Shot as Race Violence Hits in South

MONROE, N.C. (UPI) — This small Carolina town, racially uneasy for several months, exploded into violence Sunday when police tried to keep a white integrationist from joining Negro anti-segregation demonstrators in a taxi. A white policeman was shot in the melee.

Police arrested more than 50 persons, many of them whites, on charges of inciting to riot, and charged a negro youth with assault with intent to kill the wounded policeman.

Police Chief A. A. Mauney also said Negroes temporarily held a white couple as hostages in an attempt to force release of integrated pickets jailed by officers during several hours of racial turbulence. He said, however, the couple was released unharmed.

Mayor Fred Wilson called the City Council into emergency session after a crowd of more than 1,000 jeering whites collected downtown, harassing police and apparently on the lookout for more trouble. Knots of men roamed the streets until midnight, seven hours after the original disturbance.

The City Council called for state troopers to help regain control of the town, and Mayor Wilson wired Attorney General Robert Kennedy for advice on how to end the racial disorders.

(The FBI in North Carolina declined to comment on the matter and the Justice Department in Washington said it would have no comment until later today. Kennedy spent the weekend at his summer home in Hyannis Port, Mass.)

Trouble had been brewing in Monroe for months. Local Negroes, led by Robert Williams, have been protesting segregation and alleged unfair treatment by police.

Williams, ousted from the NAACP in 1959 after advocating that Negroes meet "force with force," has urged Negroes to arm themselves. By this weekend, the town of 11,000, lying on the South Carolina border, was a tinderbox of aroused feelings.

Williams said he invited pickets to parade around the county courthouse Sunday to protest the city's segregation policies "as a test of the passive resistance method." Williams did not take part in the picketing which followed minor racial tiffs earlier this weekend.

Violence erupted Sunday when policeman J. W. Rushing tried to stop 20-year-old Constance Lever of Durham, England, from getting into a car with a group of Negro pickets. Miss Lever and other whites had been among the picketers.

Palm Desert Will Revise Directories

PALM DESERT — The chamber of commerce here has started revising this community's real estate, hotel and retail business directories, Don McNeilly, secretary-manager, has announced.

Any hotels, real estate firms or retail businesses which have changes to be made in their listings, but which have not been contacted by the chamber, should make the changes known to him, McNeilly said.

China Nuclear Bomb Seen in Three Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Red China could probably produce a nuclear bomb by 1964 — a serious threat to Russia as well as the free world, according to the chief U.S. test ban negotiator.

Arthur Dean, the chief U.S. representative at the Geneva nuclear test ban talks, said Sunday the spread of such weapons to Red China and other countries was one of the main reasons for seeking a test ban.

In a TV interview made before he returned to Geneva, Dean said Red China knew how to make a nuclear bomb and had an atomic reactor which could produce a small amount of atomic explosive.

"So...they probably could produce a bomb in '62 or '63," he said.

He said "it might be a very expensive bomb or it might be a very dirty bomb."

He added that "after having produced the bomb, they have got to invent a vehicle for its delivery with accuracy. That's much more difficult."

Russia, Dean said, is not helping Red China make a nuclear bomb, which is one of the causes of friction between the countries.

NOW HONEYMOONING are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hughes, who were wed Saturday evening at Palm Springs Community Church. The former Mrs. Maxine Corbell, the bride and her groom will make their home in Palm Springs.

Corbell-Hughes Recite Vows

During a Saturday evening ceremony at Palm Springs Community Church, Mrs. Maxine Corbell and Douglas Hughes, both of Palm Springs, exchanged vows, with Rev. Charles Brown officiating.

A white orchid corsage complemented the white accessories the bride wore with a blue linen sheath. She carried the Holy Bible, also in white.

Following the ceremony, the wedding party and guests gathered at the Biltmore Hotel for a wedding supper. Wedding attendants included the bride's two sons Terry and Steve Corbell, Miss Christine Hirsch, and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Smith.

The newlyweds are now enjoying a combination honeymoon and vacation. They will honeymoon in Oklahoma, while the bride's sons are visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Nickens of Tulsa. Their trip will also include a visit to Yellowstone National Park.

Following her honeymoon, the bride will return to the George E. Cameron Jr. offices, where she is employed as secretary of the land department and manager of the oil and gas lease records.

Good Ice Cream Will Become Better When It's Dressed-Up

Ice cream served alone is without a doubt the easiest dessert known to anyone anywhere, and significantly, one of the most welcome. But an amazing feature about ice cream is that it can be dressed up so easily to make an even more luscious dessert.

Chocolate cereal baskets are an easy and fitting background for vanilla or other delectable flavored ice creams such as Chocolate Mint and Jamaica Coffee. Chocolate syrup or hot fudge spooned over the top completes a perfect picture.

It is indeed fortunate that the important calcium mineral is retained in the milk solids of ice cream during freezing, for calcium is important for good health throughout life. According to one authority, all the calcium in the human body is replaced every few years. If the body is not supplied with calcium, it simply robs the bones and teeth of this mineral. Over a long period a calcium deficiency can be disastrous as it is likely to result in some form of serious ill health.

Increasingly, ice cream is being served at various times of the day instead of just at the conclusion of a meal. For a between-

Joan Wilcoxon Will Head Community Theater Groups

Jean Woodbury Wilcoxon of Calle Abonia, noted actress of screen and stage, will have five workshops this fall and winter under sponsorship of three community theater groups in Riverside, San Bernardino and Palm Springs.

With a slogan of "to know theater is to do theater," Miss Woodbury, wife of Henry Wilcoxon, Paramount-Cecil B. de Mille director-producer, will stage a series of productions in the three communities with high-caliber talent.

In Riverside Miss Woodbury will have drama and theater arts workshops at the Arthur Murray Studios at 3709 Market St. The teen-age group will meet Mondays from 4 to 6 p.m., beginning Sept. 18. The adults will meet Saturdays from 7 to 9:30 p.m., beginning Sept. 23.

The Palm Springs group will be for teen-agers only, at dates to be announced on Miss Woodbury's return to her Palm Springs home from a tour of Mexico.

Further information may be obtained by writing to the secretary of Miss Woodbury's workshops, Joan Somervell, 3147 Sepulveda Ave., San Bernardino.

Blue Ribbons Received By Edna Ward

As is her annual habit, Edna Ward of East Andreas, came up with blue ribbons in the clothing and textile division of the Hemet Farmer's Fair.

The sole Palm Springs awardee, Mrs. Ward, captured the following first place awards: baby carriage robe, baby jacket, buffet scarf, vanity set, guest towel, and handkerchief.

She received second place awards for her doily, place mats, and dresser scarf.

Another dresser scarf was awarded a third prize, along with a baby cap, and another vanity set.

The Wards are currently vacationing in northern California, and will return to the desert in October.

Lester Ward, the talented seamstress' husband, is employed at the carpenter's union.

Band PW State Board Holds Meet

Representing the 351 Clubs of the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's organization, members of the State Board of Directors met in Monterey for their summer Board Meeting last weekend.

Mrs. Lily M. Budde of San Francisco, President of the State Federation, presided over the two-day session which was held at the Mark Thomas Inn. High on the agenda, was the planning for two conventions, the State Convention in San Francisco on May 17-20, 1962, and the National Federation Convention in Los Angeles on July 15-19, 1962, at which the California Federation will be the official hostess.

At the Saturday night banquet, Mary Ross, Advanced Systems Engineer for Lockheed Missiles and Space Division, was the honored guest, and named as the "Woman of the Year" by the Board of Directors. Mrs. Budde made the formal presentation of the award.

By JOSEPH FINNIGAN
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — When television isn't spending most of its valuable time with mediocre entertainment, it can be a fine forum and CBS proved that Thursday night with "At the Source", one of the better documentary programs.

CBS correspondents Eric Seaver and Howard K. Smith interviewed Gamel Abdel Nasser, president of the United Arab Republic, at his seashore residence. Watching waves lapping near the stylish home, you couldn't help but think of the place as an Arab Hyannis Port.

Nasser spoke softly and with a trace of an accent, occasionally using the wrong word and often smiling, during the interview, described by CBS as "informal."

Seaver and Smith questioned the Arab leader on a variety of subjects ranging from the current Berlin crisis to domestic problems facing the U.A.R. president.

On the subject of Berlin, Nasser, who sat behind a desk and faced his interviewers, said "we look to the Berlin crises as the result of World War II" and added "neither threats or declarations" will solve the problem.

Nasser spoke of a letter he received from Nikita Khrushchev and said the Russian leader wrote about Germany. A letter from President Kennedy, Nasser said, expressed a desire for an end to tension in the Arab world.

As for his own position on Germany, Nasser said, "We are against partition and for unity."

Regarding the relations between the Arab Republic and Israel, President Nasser was more specific and said "I can not escape to be bitter" on certain aspects of the problem.

He said the Israelis were arming. His own military buildup, he said, was only done in response to Israeli actions.

Discussing domestic policies of the Nasser regime, the two correspondents asked him about the possibility of new political parties being formed in his country.

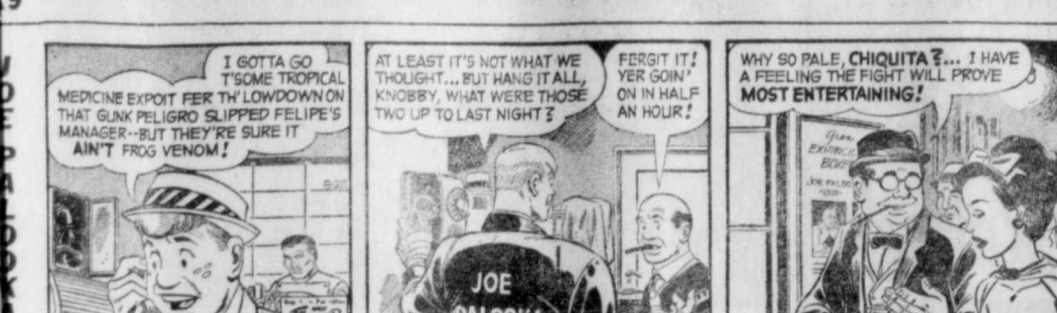

"We're trying to liquidate all the classes," he said, and then asked, "If that's achieved, why do we need parties? There will be no feudal parties because there will be no feudalists."

Saund Sounded American

Well, anything can happen. A "foreigner" turned against Foreign Aid in the House.

There had to be a threat of war over Berlin, after 15 years and nearly $100 billion of Foreign Aid, to make many members of Congress pause to wonder if "peace," after all, is purchasable.

Liberals were aggrieved that the Riverside-Imperial County Congressman D. S. Saund, who was born in India, came up with a winning amendment which rejected President Kennedy's cherished plan for backdoor financing of Foreign Aid.

The Saund amendment may be overturned or circumvented, but its full meaning will remain marked up on the wall by the 87th House.

This close-to-the-people body of the national legislature is leery of Foreign Aid and even more leery of giving extra-Constitutional powers to the power-conscious Kennedy Administration.

Something missing in most reports of the debate was a very uncalculated remark by Rep. Zablocki (D., Wis.), who evidently thought a "foreigner" shouldn't do what Rep. Saund had done. There was this dialogue, which probably influenced several Representatives to side with the India-born Californian:

Zablocki: "Frankly, I am surprised that the gentleman would present such an amendment, for I know he is fully aware of the importance long-term programs had and continue to have in India . . . in June of this year, the Consortium of Governments and Institutions agreed to a long-term loan to India amounting to $2,256,000."

Saund: "I wish to inform the gentleman that I am a citizen of the United States of America and a member of the U. S. Congress. When I accepted my citizenship papers, I forswore my allegiance to the Government of India."

Saund's reply was spoken like a good American, and caused some to wonder if some of our foreigner-first statesmen, like Chester Bowles and Adlai Stevenson, could make such a clean disavowal of divided allegiance.

It's Your Money Tree

—WHEN SOMEONE STARTS A FOREST FIRE!

Dear Abby . . .

. . . by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: Our 12-year-old doesn't know the first thing about how to handle money, and his father isn't helping any.

The boy gets $2.00 a week just for breathing. He is supposed to keep his room picked up for this, but he won't hang up his trousers without a fight. He has never saved a dime in his life. He had four teeth extracted this summer and, since he is too big for the "fairy" to leave money under his pillow, his Dad paid him a dollar a tooth.

I am against handing out money for no reason at all. My husband and I are having some heated arguments over it. What would you do?

ALWAYS THE LOSER
DEAR LOSER: Before you can teach your small boy how to handle money, you should teach your big boy how to handle his son. He is doing the boy no favor by giving him the idea that the world owes him something. Make him work for what he gets, and he'll appreciate it more. And insist that he save something — if it's only a dime a week. Building a bank account is one phase in building character.

DEAR ABBY: How can I get people to mind their own business? I haven't had my hair cut in 15 years. I wear it brushed out, and hanging to my waist. Almost every day someone says, "Why don't you cut that stuff off?" Or, "Gee, isn't that mop a lot of trouble?"

To be truthful, it is a lot of trouble. But I like it this way, and I'm the one who has to take care of it. How can I get people to quit staring at me and making remarks. I am 37 years old and don't need anyone to tell me how to wear my hair.

LONG HAIR
DEAR LONG: If you are "stared at," and almost every day someone remarks on your hair, perhaps you ought to treat yourself to a professional opinion at a smart beauty salon. But if you are determined to wear it that way, don't be offended if folks stare and make remarks. How many other women your age sport a 15 years' growth of hair brushed out and hanging to the waist?

This Side of The Sun

By R. F. 'Phat' Graettinger

Just finished cleaning my desk
And, my, it looks so picturesque.

Neat, too. But I won't be able to find a thing until I get it back to normal — all messed up. There's nothing like orderly disarray where I can reach down a certain depth and come up with just what I want — but nobody else can.

IT ALL STARTED the other morning when Mrs. G took a disapproving look at the desk. "I know that William Allen White's desk was the most cluttered in the country and he was one of its greatest editors," she said. "But you're not William Allen White and, besides, he wouldn't be first in cluttered desks if they had seen yours."

I TOOK THAT to mean I wasn't in Mr. White's class and therefore not entitled to his good filing system. His desk was a mark of distinction, mine was a mess.

I was also reminded that my summer hibernation was nearing an end and that I always cleaned my desk in August, heaving away an accumulation of obsolete notes which I can't read, anyway. A large empty wastebasket was placed by my side.

"I'll clean up what misses the basket later," she said.

IT WAS A LONG, tough job deciding what to throw away. There were all of those pages torn from newspapers of last fall and this spring which I had to read carefully in an attempt to learn why I have saved them. Of some, I was unsure. "I'll go over them later," I explained. "Probably not until the next annual cleaning in August, 1962," was the prediction.

WHY SAVE ALL of those pen-stubs? They're all too short

Berlin--The Weapon And the Worship

By HOLMES ALEXANDER
WITH JOHNSON IN BERLIN—Last week the USA conquered Berlin. As history runs, it may be that the weapon of conquest will prove more important — and is surely more important to remember — than the conquerors.

The weapon which brought out a million or so Berliners, all of them waving and many of them weeping for joy, was there for all to know—the weapon of anti-Communism.

This is a fact which cannot be overestimated. Virulent loathing of Communism lined these streets for miles and miles, filled the windows of nearby apartment houses, lifted voices in roar after roar, pressed flowers upon the American paraders and made Americans (at least this one) so proud to be an American that eyes became moist and voices choked among hardened reporters and old soldiers who had seen great cities liberated from terrible enemies of mankind.

Anti-Communism overthrew West Berlin with such swiftness and totality that I wondered as I rode between the crowds, and got out and ran beside the distinguished visitors — I wondered if anti-Communism could not conquer everywhere else on earth.

Change From Last Year
To one only a few hours from Washington, and only a day or two from Senate debates on whether we should teach anti-Communism to soldiers, students and citizens, it was as if the heavens had opened and presented a revelation. It didn't seem possible that foreign cities have raised "Yankee, go home!" signs to us, and that only last summer President Eisenhower was kept out of Tokyo, and that a year or so back Richard Nixon was stoned in Caracas, and that only in April we permitted the liberation of Cuba to fail. One weapon might have won everywhere — the weapon of unrelenting anti-Communism.

Lyndon Johnson and Lucius Clay brought this weapon to West Berlin and that is how they conquered.

After a so-so reception in Bonn, where Chancellor Adenauer and the Federal Republic are not displeased that the refugee flood has been stemmed and not at all disposed to take up arms against Communism, we did expect to find a warmer welcome in Berlin. But nothing like this was anticipated, or could have been reasonably imagined.

At Tempelhof Airport, there was the official greeting by Mayor Willy Brandt, and the inevitable honor guard and military band. A fair crowd stood on the steps or pressed around the off-loading plane.

People Were Crying
But as the motorcade went up the street, we saw a herd of people charging toward the moving cars. "They've broken through the police lines," somebody shouted. Our next intimation of something unusual was when one of us turned for female verification to Marguerite Higgins of the N. Y. Herald Tribune and asked: "Meggie, aren't those people crying?" Many were using the same handkerchiefs with which they waved to dry the tears. Many faces, mostly of middle age and beyond, were contorted and flushed. Johnson rode in a closed car, so that only the flapping of a big hand was visible to those on his side of the street. We heard them shouting in German, "Bravo!" and "He comes here!" almost as if they spoke of the Resurrection.

It was too much for the old Texan politico. As he leaped from his limousine, the press bus emptied with a rush. Nothing that ever happens to me will make me prouder of my country than being in that lively, joyous crowd which, by its voice and gestures, was literally worshipping the American image.

Johnson's familiar cornpone-and-cornet manner, the combination of ham acting and ducal dignity, made him magnificent. But he might not have shown so superbly if he hadn't had Gen. Lucius Clay in the supporting role.

Clay, compact and restrained, while Johnson is rangy and out-giving, completed a perfect team. To Berliners, Clay is Herr Airlift (1948-49), the militant anti-Communist who wanted to run an armored train through the Russian blockade, the commandant of the city who showed neither bluster nor concern at the ragings of the Reds.

Later on, when Brandt spoke to an outdoor rally at the Schomberg Rathaus, the Mayor gave a stirring "man who" eulogy of Clay who, Brandt said, had promised upon leaving here ten years before that if Berlin was ever again in trouble, he'd take the first plane back.

The crowd shouted again and louder still in worship of the American image as personified in Clay.

But men and the offices they hold will change. The weapon of anti-Communism remains. We must use it at home and abroad.

IT'S ON THE WAY — The 34th annual Los Angeles County Fair opens in Pomona, September 15. Here a bevy of pretty queen candidates from Mt. San Antonio College gather about one of the huge pumpkin cutouts used up and down the Southern California highways to herald the event. During its seventeen days, through October 1, more than a million visitors will pass through the gates. From left to right are: Kay Brown, West Covina; Beverly Garden, Covina and Diane Munch, West Covina.

(The Asheville Citizen)

It was a cute quote, though we've misplaced it. That statement, we mean, by the California attorney general that the John Birch Society is comprised of a bunch of misguided reactionaries and "little old ladies in tennis shoes." It made a very cute quote.

The only thing is, we think he's wrong. We'd like to dismiss the Birchites as an insignificant group of cultists who are temporarily enamored, mildly crackpot, and better ignored. But we don't think that's warranted.

We get a feeling that the John Birch people are, by and large, well-to-do dedicants who are totally committed to a change in the American political structure that would weed out "liberal" influences from the process of government.

We get a notion, perhaps erroneously, that many of them don't subscribe to much of the wild-eyed doctrine of the Birch fundamentalists ("Eisenhower is a Communist . . . Impreath Earl Warren") but that most of them are attracted by the group's ultra-conservative aims "Abolish the income tax".

We think that many of them are sincere. We're convinced they're wrong, but we acknowledge their sincerity.

We have met, among the Birchites, no "little old ladies in tennis shoes." We have met women, self-admitted members, who were poised and attractive in spiked pumps from the more-expensive outlets.

We have talked with members who are zealots, but we have talked with members who talked with restrained voices in modulated tones.

That's what frightens us.

Here are people convinced that native Communists have so infiltrated the American society that they have attained, or are attaining, a position of control. It is, to us, a fantastic conclusion; it is, to many Birchites, an accepted fact.

And even those who don't pamper the "Communist" fetish are persuaded that this country is so far down the road toward socialism that only a secret, private, calculated upheaval can save us from disaster.

They are, of course, wrong; stubbornly wrong. A government such as ours must conform to the majority dictates of all its people.

But we doubt the Birchites can be ridiculed into obscurity. They have strong convictions, considerable wealth, and an utter disdain for their critics. Hardly any of them, from what we know of them, go in for tennis shoes.

And that's what troubles us.

Remember When . . .

AUGUST 28, 1951

Robert Howard purchased the Colonial House from Mrs. Thelma Davis and said that the name would be changed to the Howard Manor. The sale was for $500,000. Rumors were that Basil Brewer, a newspaper publisher was buying the hotel, but it was announced that he had withdrawn his offer.

Robert W. Peterson, city treasurer, was acting city manager while City Manager Russell Rink was taking a two week vacation.

Don Cameron was named head of all realty sales for Rancho Mirage, according to an announcement by A. Ronald But-ton.

AUGUST 28, 1941

The director of the Department of Motor Vehicles told Palm Springs that the city's share for motor license fees was $1,163 for the quarter ending June 30. Riverside County received $21,737 as its share for the same quarter.

AUGUST 28, 1931

The Municipal Water Supply, Ltd., told local residents that their water supply was going to be increased after they complete their $40,000,000 project to bring water here from the High Sierras.

Firemen worked for several hours to extinguish a hay truck fire which burned on Highway 60-70-99, between Cabazon and Whitewater.

Computer Has Created New Industry

Financial Gossip
By LEROY POPE
NEW YORK (UPI)—The computer now has created another new industry to parallel data processing. It's called "data retrieval" and it's an electronic library system that will spew out the information from hundreds of books at the press of a few buttons.

The Central Intelligence Agency in Washington, several universities and a number of the companies making computers and data processing machines are already up to their necks in data retrieval. Several commercial data retrieval centers have been set up in the big cities.

According to M. Sachs and Sam Amir of Worldmark Press, who have set up one in New York, data retrieval soon could build up into a business running into hundreds of millions of dollars a year. Practically every industrial and commercial company, every university, every research foundation and thousands of government departments are potential customers.

Some big companies, especially those in chemistry and other scientific fields already have set up their own data retrieval centers.

Data retrieval won't eliminate the research people — the machines can't evaluate data and they can only sort it in a mechanical way. But, according to Sachs, it takes most of the drudgery out of searching for information just as data processing takes the drudgery out of major accounting and calculation.

"To give an extreme example," Amir said, "at the press of a button, Worldmark Press' data retrieval center could dig out the memory cells of our computer everything that has ever been written about the world market and production of pomegranates. It might take researchers weeks to find this information in libraries before they could start analyzing it."

The need for a mechanical method systematically and compactly storing scientific, industrial and commercial information so it can be retrieved instantly in printed form, on film, magnetic tape or punch cards for sorting machines, will be appreciated quickly in a few quarters.

Technical writers in the western world grind out 60,000 to 150,000 books a year and around 1.3 million magazine articles.

Many companies, universities and government departments need digests of substantial portions of the information published in these works — yet to search for this information themselves would entail spending many millions of dollars.

Pays to Advertise

LUDINGTON, Mich. (UPI)—The power of advertising has taken a jump in the esteem of Hazel Hansen, Red Cross executive for Mason County. After appealing to the Muskegon Chronicle that she needed someone to open a locked safe to which no one knew the combination, in walked Kenneth Lindholm. He works in an office just across the hall from the one housing the Red Cross. Lindholm opened the safe, using knowledge he said he acquired while in the Army.

Happy Hebert Has Putt Edge To Win

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Jay Hebert has won a lot of money — $163,066.11 to be exact — since he left the bayous of Louisiana to become a touring golf professional and he figured today that it "would be a lot more than that if all the tournaments were played here."

"Here" to the 38-year-old Hebert is the Firestone Country Club.

It was there Sunday where he put on a dramatic finish to beat out little Gary Player in a sudden death playoff for the first place money of $9,000 in the American Golf Classic.

Only 13 months ago, over the same 7,165-yard course, he picked up $11,000 when he won the PGA championship.

"I think I'll get a job here and just play in the tournament here every year," said Hebert. "That should keep me in bread and butter."

His classic victory came over a heartsick Player.

"I have lost a lot of golf tournaments and I am going to lose a lot more," said Player. "And I couldn't lost to a better golfer or gentleman than Jay. I don't blame the golf fans for rooting for Jay. After all, he's an American, and I'm a foreigner."

"But it hurt me when I heard a couple of spectators applaud when I missed a putt on the third green and again on the fourth. I know that isn't the way most golf fans in America act. Actually, the fans here were wonderful to me and it's just too bad one or two of them couldn't keep their feelings to themselves."

Player's second place finish was worth $4,600 and brought his money winnings for the year to $67,700.20.

Don Fairfield, who shot a course record 65 Saturday, came in third with a total of 280, worth $3,000. Arnold Palmer, the tourney favorite, finished fourth with 281. Sam Snead and Doug Ford were next in line with 283 while Bob Goalby, Ken Venturi and Art Wall had 284's.

Dodgers 3½ Off Pace In 6-5, 8-3 Losses; 2-2 Series Split

United Press International

Generally, whenever a manager starts shying away from any premature pennant congratulations, his team already is thinking in terms of the World Series. And no one could really blame the Reds for thinking that way after they bounced back from two straight beatings at the hands of Los Angeles to sweep a doubleheader from the Dodgers, 6-5 and 8-3, Sunday before a standing room crowd of 30,195 at Cincinnati.

Naturally, Dodger manager Walt Alston was depressed. But he was in no mood to concede.

Even In Loss Column
"This leaves us in the same spot as when we came into Cincinnati," he said. "We're still even with them in the loss column."

True enough, but the Reds have won seven more games than the Dodgers. That means even if Cincinnati wins only 12 of its remaining 24 games, Los Angeles would have to win 19 of its last 31 merely to gain a tie.

"We've been bouncing back all season long," said the happy Hutchinson after the Reds won their 10th twin-bill of the season. "It was just a case of going out and doing it again."

And the Reds did. They trailed 3-1 in the opener when Leo Cardenas doubled to start a seventh inning rally that was climaxed by Gene Freese's 23rd homer with two on. Cardenas tripled home Jerry Lynch with the tying run in the eighth and then scampered home with the winning run on Wally Post's pinch double. Jim Brosnan picked up his eighth victory in relief.

Pinson Hits Homer

Vada Pinson's 15th homer with one on off loser Don Drysdale started the Reds to victory in the first inning of the nightcap. The Reds added a run in the fourth and drove Drysdale to the showers with three more runs in the sixth. Ken Johnson registered his fifth victory with help from Brosnan and Bill Henry.

The St. Louis Cardinals rolled to their seventh straight victory by blanking the San Francisco Giants, 6-0, Milwaukee beat Philadelphia, 11-10, in a 12-inning opener but lost the nightcap, 3-0, and Pittsburgh split with Chicago, the Pirates winning the opener, 7-3, and the Cubs the nightcap, 6-5.

Rocky Colavito had the biggest day in the American League, hitting four home runs as Detroit swept a doubleheader from Washington, 7-4 and 10-1. The Tigers moved to within two games of the first place New York Yankees, who squeaked past the Kansas City A's, 8-7. The Chicago White Sox took two from the Cleveland Indians, 10-6 and 9-3, Baltimore blanked Minnesota, 3-0, and the Los Angeles Angels beat the Boston Red Sox, 8-3.

Down Boston
Los Angeles socked Boston, 8-1, Sunday before a relatively small turnout of 5,797. The win moved the Angels back into sole possession of seventh place and evened them up in the loss column with sixth-place Boston—a team that has dropped 18 of its last 20 road games.

The Red Sox—also stung 5-2 by the Angels on Saturday—still are 2½ games in front of Los Angeles.

Manager Bill Rigney was particularly pleased with the pitching and endurance of Eli Grba in Sunday's loosely played game. "Grba threw a lot of pitches," Rigney said, "but he did a good job."

Angels Eye 6th From 7th Slot As Boston Drops 2

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The Los Angeles Angels, a team that thinks big, isn't going to settle for seventh place in the American League. The Angels are pointing for sixth place and make no bones about it.

Sixth place may not sound like much when you're talking about pennant fights. But for a freshman team that wasn't expected to win 50 games in a 10-team league, it's brash talk indeed.

The Angels step up their campaign tonight against the Baltimore Orioles in the first game of a four-game series at Wrigley Field, with Ted Bowsfield (9-5) pitching for the host team against Hal (Skinny) Brown (9-4).

McKinley, Ralston Match Mexicans in U.S. Net Final

CHESTNUT HILL, Mass. (UPI) — "We've been waiting all week for this."

With that battle cry, Chuck McKinley, 20, St. Louis, and Dennis Ralston, 19, Bakersfield, Calif., sought revenge today from a talented Mexican Davis Cup team in the finals of the National Doubles championships at Longwood Cricket Club. It was the first time in the 81-year history of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association Doubles competition that a Mexican tandem had entered the finals.

And it was just one week ago that Mexicans Rafael Osuna and Antonio Palafox whipped the U.S. team in four sets during Davis Cup zonal play at Cleveland.

"We didn't have trouble with them before. Of course, that was on clay (courts) and this is on grass. But I wouldn't say that will hurt us even though we haven't played on grass since we were here last year," said Palafox, the spokesman for the pair.

To the surprise of virtually nobody, today's women's finale matched defending champion Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., and her new Australian teammate, Lesley Turner, against the invading tandem of Germany's Edda Buding and Mexico's Yola Ramirez.

In one final played Sunday, Mrs. Marjorie Buck of Manchester, Mass., and Mrs. Katherine McKean of South Hamilton, Mass., won their sixth senior women's crown, 8-6, 6-3 defeating Mrs. Nell Hopman of Australia and Mrs. Kay Hubbell of Conway, N.H.

7-7 Tie Tally In Annual Grid Clash

SAN BERNARDINO — The annual Riverside - San Bernardino high school grad grid joust ground to a 7-7 tie, as the San Bernardino squad marched 81 yards in the fourth quarter for their touchdown.

The squad of Riverside county coach Jerry Usher took the lead in the first period, as Bob Horacek spurted 14 yards, and then plunged the remaining one yard to paydirt, in the final ten seconds of the act.

Horacek gained 96 yards in 18 runs to lead in back gains. San Bernardino, which scored on John Hall's plunge after Bunny Brown ran 33 yards in four trips, led 248-181 in offense, and 13-12 in first downs.

Maris Gains 51st As Mantle in Lag

KANSAS CITY (UPI) Roger Maris socked his 51st homer of the year against the A's Saturday, as the New York Yankees romped 5-1 over the hapless homebatters.

Both Yankee sluggers went hitless Sunday in an 8-7 edger over the Athletics.

Maris, 14 games ahead of Babe Ruth's 1927 record last week, is now 10 ahead of the Bambino's pace. Mickey Mantle, with 25 homers, is three ahead of the famed record, seven behind Maris' tally.

3rd Day Set For Hydros

RENO (UPI) — The race for the 1961 Gold Cup, world championship for unlimited hydroplanes, went into an unexpected third day today after two crashes on windswept, choppy Pyramid Lake washed out one heat Sunday and shortened another.

Air Force jet pilot Col. Russ Schless, Saturday winner, driving the hometown favorite Miss Reno, was the first victim of the waves. His boat, the former Gold Cup champion Maverick, disappeared in a cloud of spray the fifth lap of Sunday's first heat.

Schless, who was running in fourth place as he started around the south turn of the three mile 3,500-foot high course, was thrown clear. He was plucked from the water by a patrol boat moments later little more than soaked and shaken up.

Red flares shot into the air, halting the heat in a bitter blow to Don Wilson in Miss U.S. 1 who was within 200 yards of finishing his fifth lap. That would have been halfway at 15 miles and enough to make it an official heat.

Miss U.S. 1 of Detroit already had picked up 400 points for a first place heat Saturday and 400 more would have made her hard to catch in the remaining two.

Rex Manchester, apparently en route to victory in Miss Spokane in Sunday's second heat, flipped on the last turn and again red flares halted the race.
